Definition of PR & PR Functions

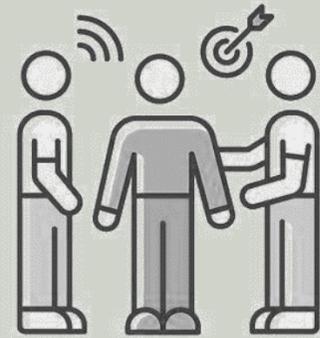

Stakeholders in PR

Marketing and Public Relations

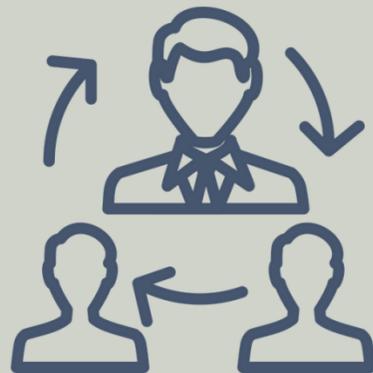

Example of PR Campaign

TASK 1

WHAT WILL WE DO IN THIS SEMESTER?

PLANNING PUBLIC RELATIONS CAMPAIGN

MAKE GOOD MEDIA TO COMMUNICATE PR CAMPAIGN

THINK AGAIN, WHAT IS PUBLIC RELATIONS?

Go to www.menti.com and use the code 78 31 07 6

WHAT IS PUBLIC RELATIONS?

- Professional and proactive communication
- Built high quality relations with key institution, communities and association.
- Built customer trust.
- Listen to public's need.
- Do two ways communications.

PUBLIC RELATIONS FUNCTIONS

Fungsi manajemen yang membangun dan mempertahankan hubungan yang baik dan bermanfaat antara organisasi dengan publik yang memengaruhi kesuksesan atau kegagalan organisasi tersebut.

Public relations practice is the art and science of analyzing trends, predicting their consequences, counseling organization leaders, and implementing planned programs of action which will serve both the organization's and the public interest.

DEFINITION OF PR CAMPAIGN

A planned set of communication activities, each with a specific defined purpose, continued over a set period of time and intended to meet communication goals and objectives relating to a nominated issue: for example, a campaign to increase industrial safety (Sheenan, 2009).

PUBLIC RELATIONS vs ADVERTISING

PUBLIC RELATIONS

- Free
- Less control coverage in the media
- PR provides information and newsworthy stories to a journalist
- PR professionals can communicate your message to a target audience in a variety of channels.

ADVERTISING

- Paid
- Have control over the content
- Advertisements have less credibility than the coverage gained by PR
- Company can pay for an advertisement to be placed directly in the media your target audience is interested in

BCA eyes 1m users for new Sakuku e-money service

Grace D. Amanti
THE JAKARTA POST

Publicly listed Bank Central Asia (BCA) expects its newly launched Sakuku e-money transaction to attract at least one million users within the first year of operations.

The new app, which was officially launched on Monday, is categorized as an electronic money (e-money) transaction service that enables users to conduct retail payments for purchases in physical and online shops, using only their cell phone numbers.

BCA retail and commercial banking director Sawigono Budiono said the bank was currently in the process of expanding the app's features, which would enable users to top-up their cell phone credit, pay monthly bills and withdraw money from BCA ATMs.

"We hope this app can attract young people, who constitute half of our total 10 million customers, and more merchants to join us. As transactions grow, we will be very pleased if we can get 1 million people using the app in the first year," Sawigono said after the launch event.

The private lender, Sawigono said, was confident that the new app could be as successful as Flazz, its card-based e-money product, which was launched in 2007 and currently covers at least 7 million cards with an average transaction volume between 100,000 and 100,000 a day.

According to Sawigono, BCA struggled to raise awareness of Flazz cards during the first years of its existence, but later succeeded in promoting it by equipping usage to various public transportation with a maximum balance up to Rp 5 million (US$234 million) and maximum monthly transaction value Rp 20 million.

"We will also actively raise awareness among customers and merchants about this product through various means, such as social media," Amanti said.

As part of efforts to raise customer awareness, BCA banking and services division head Leo Seward said the bank would accelerate partnerships with merchants, especially those that enjoyed popularity among young people, such as e-commerce, fashion, cafes and restaurants and cinema chains.

"We expect to build partnerships with hundreds of merchants this year. Currently, we already partner with 11 official merchants with 14

Flazz was more practical to be used for public utilities, Sawigono said, while Sakuku would be more suitable for online payments.

"Later, more Flazz users are using their cards to pay parking fees, toll fees and public transportation fees, such as for TransJakarta (bus) and the commuter railway. On the other hand, Sakuku will be focused more on retail purchases and other such payments," Sawigono said.

In competition with similar products from other banks, BCA director of operation and information technology Armand W. Hartono added that the lender was convinced that the new app would attract users as it offered greater security through QR technology, which acts as a coding system for authentication.
